UTBMS Litigation Code Set Revised 2007

The American Bar Association (ABA) and the Association of Corporate Counsel (ACC) facilitated the creation of a series of task based code sets to cover the major classification of legal services, including a specific UTBMS Litigation Task Code Set in 1995. Neither association officially endorsed or took ownership as such for the code sets. No umbrella management/professional development organization was created.

UTBMS is digital based making it ideal for e-billing. It has become synonymous with LEDES supported e-billing applications. Insurance defense litigation has emerged as the dominant user of with “task based billing” systems. Insurers and insurance defense firms, although supportive of its methodology, had criticisms about task gaps in code phases and ambiguity in the wording of existing tasks.

A core group of stakeholders in insurance defense representative of insurers and insurance defense firms created an ad hoc UTBMS Insurance Update Initiative. A survey was conducted among insurers. A series of qualitative teleconference interviews were held with a select group of insurance defense lawyers representative of major insurer panel firms during the fall of 2005. A symposium was held in January, 2006. A series of meetings was convened. Unanimous consensus was reached on the following:

Resolution

We do not intend to re-invent UTBMS. We wish to enhance the current system to better respond to litigation management needs. We have identified these opportunities to do so.

1. Practice Specific Codes. We are not interested in designing multiple code sets, simply to address nuances of various legal specialties. The litigation community is best served by one agreed upon code that is modified to reflect current needs.

2. Litigation Codes. The current litigation phases and tasks have been unilaterally modified by users to support their litigation management guidelines and to improve budgeting capabilities. We will adopt a lessons learned approach and develop one improved code set that supports uniformity in use and application.

3. Clarification. We will identify opportunities for consistent application and definition of existing tasks and additions of new tasks that demonstrate added value. We are not seeking a single “correct” way to apply or interpret the codes. Rather, we can understand the variant uses of each task and will develop a set of definitions and instructions to support each variant.

4. Education - There is a need to establish a set of tools to inform and educate law firm timekeepers, billing administrators and clients in the practical use of UTBMS. We will design a set of informational tools to educate UTBMS users.
